

PUPPET TALES

STORY NARRATION COMPETITION

Puppets are little hands of imagination that make stories come alive.

The Story Narration Competition with Puppets was organised for the students of Class III to spark creativity and imagination among young learners. With colourful puppets in hand, students skilfully brought their stories to life, making them engaging and enjoyable. The moving and speaking characters captured everyone's attention, making the stories not only entertaining but also easy to understand. Through this activity, children enhanced their listening skills, learnt valuable moral lessons, and gained confidence in expressing themselves. The judges highly appreciated the efforts and performances of the participants. Overall, the competition created a joyful, vibrant, and enriching learning experience for all.

Winners

Class III A
